HI, I'M NICK!

EDUCATOR & AUTHOR

Nick is an award-winning author & teacher who believes that educational experiences must sharpen the mind and embrace the heart. As a teacher, Nick found ways to link curriculum inside of the classroom with service opportunities outside of it. His work as a teacher, led to the TEDx stage in 2016.

That passion has become the driving question of The Good Guys Agency series. What if we can inspire young people to use what they learn to improve the world around them? This series has become a beloved staple in school and local libraries and serves as the spark for important discussions with young people.

THE GOOD GUYS AGENCY

- ✓ Kids need better role models, and in The Good Guys Agency series, friends Lucky, Rudy, and Red take matters into their own hands!
- ✓ Time travel adventures, historic heroes, comic book panels, laughs, jokes, and more deliver a winning combination of fun, education, and values to inspire a new generation of honorable kids.
- ✓ Each coming adventure explores a different virtue or value that our kids can look towards. To help them, they learn from some of history's most inspirational heroes, each of whom struggled, learned and triumphed in their own unique way.

THE GOOD GUYS AGENCY

Lucky said, "That's the siren—we have to go! We have a new case." He grabbed the rope and swung to the ground.

Aaaawooogaa!

"But the thing! What's the one thing!" Red tried to ask as he too— somewhat less enthusiastically— inched down the rope.

Aaaawooogaa!

But Lucky was already sprinting across the grass.

On a hot summer day, Mr. Rogers wanted to cool off in the pool. He invited his good friend, Officer Clemmons to come share it with him.

Do you notice anything strange about us?

Wh, you aren't wearing swimsuits?

Yes, that's true! Anything else?

Did you notice that Officer Clemmons is black and I am white?

I guess so.

What difference does that make?

It shouldn't, but in 1969, it did. And sometimes even today. During that time, blacks and whites weren't allowed to swim in the same pool together.

Seriously? But we have way more in common than we do differences.

AUTHOR VISITS

Edutainment? Is that a thing? I surely believe so. As teachers we have the opportunity to bring lessons to life for our students. Everyday our kids meet a world full of wonders and challenges. And every day they need someone to guide them through it.

Every Good Guys Agency adventure begins with the daily lives of our characters. Through the normal pace of their day they encounter people who need their help.

Through each author visit, Nick entertains students by walking them through an adventure with the hopes that students will begin to look out for one another, use their imaginations, read, learn and most importantly act.
